

Reproduced from the Collections of the Manuscript Division, Library of Congress, provided by Trinity College, Watkinson Library, Hartford Studies Project.

March 11, 1919

Mrs. F. W. Seymour,
420 New Britain Avenue
Hartford, Connecticut

My dear Mrs. Seymour:

Mr. Shillady did not understand all of your telephone conversation yesterday. Won't you send us the pamphlet from which you read to him?

We had two representatives at the meeting last night but we did not heckle the speakers as we had thought of doing. We, however, sent up a resolution from the Board asking that they take a stand on this matter. We don't mean to let this drop.

Will you write to Miss Vida Milholland, 247 Fifth Avenue, asking her if the National Woman's Party will not take a firm stand on the matter of recognizing the right of the colored women in the South? Miss Milholland is John Milholland's daughter.

Always sincerely,

MJO/ALB